

SEVIER RIVER ASSESSMENT

The assessment is levied to Class I water users on their acre-foot usage times the standard rate that will produce a set amount of money established at the water user's meeting. Class II water users are subdivided into five sub-classes and weighted according to the needed regulation and assessed at a weighted unit that will produce the amount of money necessary to cover the remainder of the budget after Class I funds have been subtracted. The Central Utah Conservancy District pays a portion of the budget in dollars as established at the water user's meeting. The Sevier River Association assessment is levied on the basis of a calculated ratio times the cost per acre-foot for the Association members.
